Intentional Relationships cont.

June, July and August, we covered the chapters in the book "Intentional Relationships" that discussed boundaries, appreciating the opposite sex and blind spots. Sherri did a great job sharing from her own counseling training about how setting boundaries is so important. Lila and Don discussed how male and female are different and those differences should be appreciated and respected! Becky presented on blind spots and helped us see how we can miss things that affect our relationships.

September and October we will be finishing the book discussion. In September, Jackie will be sharing on confrontation and in October, Kris will be coming from North Carolina to lead the discussion and sum up the book for us! We so hope and pray you have learned much from these discussions and are developing good relationships with each other, male or female!!
